

Connecting to the Ridgewood Library Wireless Network with Mac OSX.

Once your computer is started, find the wireless icon in the upper-right corner of the screen, on the bar. Click on the wireless icon.

Make sure that your AirPort card is turned on. If it is, you should see "Ridgewood Library Wireless" listed as the available network. If it does not have a check next to it, click on it. This should activate the wireless connection.

Open your Safari Internet browser. You should be connected.
